Research Guide – Air Power

This guide is an introduction to UNSW Special Collections manuscript and rare book sources relating to air power and aviation history, from the early days of flight and the development and deployment of aircraft in military settings.

It is a selective list of resources to get you started – you can search for additional manuscripts using our Finding Aid Index and for rare books in the Search Gateway (refine your search results by Collection > Special Collections to identify rare books).

If you would like to view Special Collections material or have any questions, please submit your enquiry via the Contact Us online enquiry form and we will be happy to help you.
